Please note that player placement is accomplished by assessing player capability and skills using coach evaluations and tryout evaluations. As players can have significant development between tryouts and the start of the summer season, CC United uses both the fall season and winter training to aid in final team placement. CC United reserves the right to move any player up and down team levels after the evaluation process. The goal of this movement is to place players at a level that is conducive to their ability in that they may be challenged but not out of their depth. For additional information on the "Player Movement after Evaluations" policy, please go to www.ccunitedsoccer.com and click on Tryouts.
