

2014 Game Reports for Week 2

LW Blue

The 2014 LW Blue Frankfort Falcons played their first game at home against the Tri-City Wolverines. The dark clouds gathered and the torrential rain fell, but despite the weather, the Falcons were able to soar to a 32-12 victory. The offensive line (known as, "The Hogs") completely out muscled the Wolverine Defense allowing for extraordinary touchdown runs by Brayden Thompson, James Kwiecinski, Benjamin Elgas, and Jackson Elgas. Critical runs and touchdowns were made possible by bone crushing blocks by Billy Laponte and Dominic Adamo. With the horrible weather and field conditions creating a total mess, the offensive line was critical in assuring huge holes were made to allow our runners to score. This line created holes large enough for the Queen Mary to pass through. The "Hogs" are Aiden Cumbee, Griffin Bell, Jake Scianna, Declan Emery, Dominic Adamo, Brennan Stolarek, Joseph Michaels, Connor Willis, Aidan Dauber, and Cory Chambers. The Defense smothered any chance the Wolverines had for winning this game. Jake Scianna cut through the wolverine defensive line like a hot knife going through butter, constantly breaking plays before they can even get started. This game was all about perseverance and heart. The greatest display of this had to be an absolutely extraordinary run by Aiden Cumbee. Aiden was able to plow his way through the entire Wolverine Defense. Every time we thought he was down, he would fight and claw his way for additional yardage. Through it all, the lightning, the rain, the mud, the wolverines, the LW Blue Falcons came out with another incredible win. Next stop, Orland Hills. Go Blue..
