Coaching Philosophy

A positive, challenging, and fun experience in volleyball provides an opportunity for each player to learn more about themselves, grow as players and people, and develop skills they can apply to their lives. We expect each player to try hard, to challenge themselves to improve, and play competitively. The goal is to develop better learners, good winners, sportsmanlike losers, and young women more confident in their abilities and themselves.

Education

University of Washington, M.S. in Computer Science and Engineering, 2009
