Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What is Elmhurst Lacrosse's Mission?

A: (1) To provide the youth of Elmhurst and surrounding areas with an inclusive and fun environment for kids of all skill levels to learn and participate in the game of lacrosse; and (2) to prepare the youth of Elmhurst and surrounding areas with the basic skills and understanding of the game to compete at the high school level.

Q: When is the Elmhurst Lacrosse season?

A: The season typically runs from early April to mid June. Registration typically takes place in late October.

Q: Who can register for Elmhurst Lacrosse?

A: We accept boys from 2nd to 8th grade. However boys are placed on teams based on their age.

Q: What teams does Elmhurst Lacrosse have?

A: IBLA (and Elmhurst Lacrosse) follow the US Lacrosse guidelines for team structures, which are as follow:

U15 - All players must be 14 years old or younger on August 31 prior to registration.

U13 - All players must be 12 years old or younger on August 31 prior to registration.

U11 - All players must be 10 years old or younger on August 31 prior to registration.

U9 - All players must be 8 years old or younger on August 31 prior to registration and including anyone in 2nd grade.

Q: How many teams will Elmhurst Lacrosse have at each level?

A: The number of teams we field for each level will be determined by the number of athletes that register during our online registration period. IBLA requires that each team have a minimum of 18 players and a maximum of 25 players.

Q: What if my son has never played before?

A: We welcome all levels of players. Each winter we hold an 6-week evaluation/tune-up session where kids will be evaluated for team placement as well as providing an opportunity to practice their fundamentals through drills before the official season starts. These sessions are supervised by experienced coaches from New Wave Lacrosse and assisted by Elmhurst Lacrosse volunteer coaches. We also encourage new players to take advantage of the skills sessions we typically host in the summer and fall. Boys new to the sport are encouraged to work on the fundamentals of passing and catching and fielding ground balls. A parent can assist with these using a lacrosse stick or even a baseball mitt. One of the best ways for boys to improve on their own is to play wall-ball. Please see the wall-ball routine on our website.

Q: How are player skill levels divided up among Elmhurst teams?

A: All Elmhurst teams at every level will be divided into teams of equal talent. This is done to encourage the development of ALL players and not just a select few. Dividing the talent up equally also allows us to host our inter-Elmhurst Kings of Spring tournament every year that has evolve into one of the most exciting tournament for all our athletes as they compete against all their friends for the Elmhurst title.

Q: How are player evaluations done?

A: Skill evaluations will consist of individual drills targeting each of the following core skill sets:

1. Passing/catching accuracy
2. Shooting
3. Dodging
4. Ground balls/loose ball maneuvers
5. Teamwork and game play

Players are evaluated by association coaches, administrators, and/or outside sources. Players will given a scored of 1 to 5 for each skill set above, with higher numbers meaning higher skill. The same evaluator will score every player at each age group to ensure consistency. At the conclusion of evaluations, each player's score for the 5 skill sets above will be combined for a single player score ranging from 5 to 25, with 25 being the highest possible combined score.

Q: How are team selections done?

A: Individual teams within each age division will be created by a panel of Elmhurst Lacrosse administrators and/or coaches, with the intent of creating teams of equal talent and skill levels. Prior to the selection of individual teams, coaching pairs will be created consisting of one head coach and one assistant coach per team. Head coaches or assistant coaches sons will be removed from the pool of players prior to team selections. All remaining players for each age level will be put into the pool of players for team selections. Teams will then be created with the intent of keeping the combined evaluation score totals for each team as close to one another as possible. In addition to player evaluation scores, other criteria that will be taken into consideration include (1) individual player positions to create a well-balanced team, and (2) players who play other sports in the spring that may interfere with their attendance at practices and games.

At the end of the selection process, each team will be numbered and sent to the coaching pairs for that age group for their review. Coaches will be asked to review the rosters and provide feedback relating to the equalization of the teams. After all coaching pairs have reviewed and agreed that the teams are evenly divided, all coaches will meet to pick numbers out of a hat to determine which team they will be coaching. Once teams are selected, head coaches and assistant coaches sons will be added to the team they selected at random. Should the addition of these final two players result in combined team evaluation totals becoming more unbalanced than they were prior to the addition of these players, a single player swap will be made between the two rosters to rebalance the team totals.

Q: What about the fear of holding back the select few who may need a more challenging environment to further their development?

A: (1) We believe providing an environment of fun, well organized lacrosse on evenly distributed teams provides the most enjoyable experience for young players and prevents player burn out; (2) for players looking to really improve their skills and prepare themselves for a higher level of play, there is no replacement for wall-ball which will prepare them better than any competitive team play for this age group; and (3) if your son is still interested in playing at a higher competitive level, there are several travel lacrosse programs in the area, all of which are done in the summer, fall and winter so as not to interfere with players primary spring season.
