

Biography

Brian "Doc" Dougherty

Hometown: Grew up in Roxborough PA currently lives in Lafayette Hill PA

High School: Episcopal Academy

College: University of Maryland

Brian is the current Head Coach at Chestnut Hill College located in Philadelphia, PA. He graduated from Episcopal Academy in Merion, PA prior to playing collegiate level lacrosse at the University of Maryland. As a Terrapin, Dougherty led his squad to the NCAA Tournament all four years from 1993-1996, including the Quarterfinals in '95 and '96, and the Final Four and Finals in 1995.

Ensuing his collegiate career, Doc went on to play professionally in the National Lacrosse League with the Baltimore Thunder and Philadelphia Wings. When Major League Lacrosse was established in 2001, Dougherty busted on to the scene, winning the Steinfeld Cup with the Long Island Lizards in 2001 and again with the Philadelphia Barrage in 2006 and 2007. He has appeared in three MLL All Star games and was named MLL Goalie of the Year three times. He played with the Long Island Lizards, Rochester Rattlers and Philadelphia Barrage.

Dougherty was named to the USA World Team in 1998 and 2010, winning gold both times.

- 2X recipient of the Ensign C. Markland Jr. Award ('95 & '96)
- 2X NCAA Goaltender of the Year
- 2X First Team All American
- 1995 NCAA Tournament MVP
- 3X MLL All Star
- 3X MLL Goalie of the Year
- 3X MLL Champion
- 2X FIL World Champion
- Former Asst. Coach @ Haverford College and University of Pennsylvania
- Elected into the National Lacrosse Hall of Fame in 2012