McKinney Ice Hockey Club

Player/Parent Contract

This Player/Parent Contract provides both the player and parent(s) with a specific outline of player and parent expectations. Read this information carefully prior to making any financial commitment to determine whether McKinney Ice Hockey Programs are appropriate for your family.

Competitive vs. Developmental Emphasis

The MIHC Board endorses the concept of a fully competitive Varsity Team. The objective of this team is to be highly competitive with a strategic rather than developmental perspective. While being competitive, the team is expected to practice good sportsmanship.

Ice time is a privilege that you earn by continuous hard work and by striving to maximize your skill potential. On a competitive team, the coaching staff awards player ice time and determines positions based on the coaches' evaluation of your performance, attitude, and effort. Lines are run according to the coaches' discretion and in the best interests of the team as a whole. On competitive teams, equal ice time is not guaranteed nor should you anticipate it. Practice time is not playtime, and the coaching staff expects your full attention, commitment, and effort.

Attitude and Behavior

Attitude is an important aspect of any team sport. Condescending attitudes, malicious gossip or disrespect towards any member of MIHC, including teammates and/or the MIHC coaching staff is not acceptable regardless of whether it comes from a player or a parent. We are all part of the same "team." We will play with pride and dignity--win or lose, it's a team effort.

The Board will dismiss you from the team if the Board deems your behavior (player or parent) to be detrimental to the team or MIHC. This includes behavior on the ice, in the stands, in the locker room, and away from the rink. If you are suspended from play in another hockey league, you must inform the Head Coach of the suspension and the reason it was imposed.

Locker boxing or any other forms of reckless behavior of this kind are strictly prohibited. If you participate in or watch this type of activity or any other form of hazing, you may face disciplinary action. Captains will be held accountable for actions in the locker room and may also face disciplinary action if they are present when such behavior is taking place and have not attempted to stop it or involve the coaches.

If you repeatedly disregard the MIHC Code of Conduct, the Board may suspend you and place you on the "Player Not in Good Standing List" of the Dallas/Ft. Worth Youth Hockey Oversight Committee. Once on the list, you cannot play for any other hockey team or association in the Metroplex.

Attendance

As a player you are expected to attend all practices and games. If you fail to attend a practice or game, you will be subject to disciplinary action as set forth in the Team Rules (distributed by coaches after team forms) or as specified by your coaches.

If you play on a different travel team, you must provide the coaching staff with an ice and dryland schedule that show specific conflicts. Your travel schedule should not consistently interfere with your participation as a member of the MIHC team.

Financial Commitments

As a parent, you must meet financial commitments to MIHC on the dates specified in this contract, or the Board may suspend your player and place him or her on the "Player Not in Good Standing List" of the Dallas/Ft. Worth Youth Hockey Oversight Committee. Once on the list, a player cannot play for any other hockey team or association in the Metroplex.

Academic Expectations

Players on MIHC teams are student athletes and will be accountable for their grades to the Head Coach. We comply with a “no pass/no play rule,” and you will be expected to show report cards to the Head Coach from time to time. The Head Coach shall have authority to discipline you if you are not passing all your classes. If you’re having difficulties at school, you should meet with the team representative or coach to work out an acceptable solution.
