Parental Support – The Key to Peak Performance

The role parent's play in the life of a Lacrosse player has a tremendous impact on his experience. Here are some helpful reminders for the upcoming season.

1. Let the coaches' coach: Leave the coaching to the coaches. This includes motivating, psyching your player for practice, after game critiquing, setting goals, requiring additional training, etc. You have entrusted the care of your player to these coaches and they need to be free to do their job. If a player has too many coaches, it is confusing and performance usually declines.
2. Support the program: Get involved. Volunteer. Help out with fund-raisers, car pools, phone tree, anything to support the program.
3. Be your player's best fan: Support your player unconditionally. Do not withdraw love when your player performs poorly. Your player should never have to perform to win your love.
4. Support and root for all players on the team: Foster teamwork. Your player's teammates are not the enemy. When they are playing better than your child, your child now has a wonderful opportunity to learn.
5. Do not bribe or offer incentives: Your job is not to motivate. Leave this to the coaching staff. Bribes will distract your player from properly concentrating in practice and game situations.
6. Encourage your player to talk with the coaches: If your player is having difficulties in practice or games, or can't make a practice, etc., encourage him to speak directly to the coaches. This "responsibility taking" is a big part of becoming a big-time player. By handling the off-field tasks your child is claiming ownership of all aspects of the game - preparation for, as well as, playing the game.
7. Understand and display appropriate game behavior: Remember, your child's self-esteem and game performance are at stake. Be supportive, cheer, be appropriate. To perform at the best of his abilities, a player needs to focus on the parts of the game that he can control (personal fitness, positioning, decision making, skill, aggressiveness, what the game is presenting). If he starts focusing on what he cannot control (the condition of the field, the officials, the weather, the opponent, even the outcome of the game at times), he will not play up to his ability. If he hears a lot of people other than the coaches telling him what to do or yelling at the officials, it diverts his attention away from the task at hand.
8. Monitor your player's stress level at home: Keep an eye on your child to make sure that she is handling stress effectively from the various activities in his life.
9. Monitor eating and sleeping habits: Be sure your child is eating the proper foods and getting adequate rest.
10. Help your child keep his priorities straight: Help your player maintain focus on schoolwork, relationships and other things in life besides Lacrosse. Also, if your player has made a commitment to Lacrosse, help him fulfill his obligation to the team.
11. Reality test: If your child has come off the field when his team has lost, but has played her best, help her to see this as a "win." Remind her that she is to focus on the "process" and not the "results." Fun and satisfaction should be derived from "striving to win."
12. Keep sport in its proper perspective: Lacrosse should not be larger than life for you. If your child's performance produces strong emotions in you, suppress them. Remember your relationship will continue with your children long after their competitive days are over. Keep your goals and needs separate from your child's experience.
13. Have fun: Help make competing on a sports team s an enjoyable learning experience for your child!
